Louisiana voters will decide on 11 ballot initiatives this November

(The Center Square) — The Public Affairs Research Council of Louisiana this week unveiled a guide to help voters understand 11 proposed constitutional amendments they will be asked to decide in November and December.

The PAR Guide to the 2022 Constitutional Amendments breaks down eight ballot questions for the Nov. 8 election and three proposed amendments for the Dec. 10 ballot, offering not only an explanation but also arguments for and against the proposals.

Amendment 1 for November would authorize the state to increase the maximum amount of money the state's seven trust funds can invest in equities on the stock market to 65%. The state's largest funds are capped at 35%, though limits are different for each fund and some do not currently allow stock investments at all. There's now about $3.2 billion in the seven trust funds.

Amendment 2 would increase the property tax exemption available to veterans with servicerelated disabilities and their surviving spouses after death. The current exemption is for $75,000, and up to $150,000 in some parishes, and a yes vote on the proposal would create a graduated exemption ranging from 100% for fully disabled to up to $100,000 for those with service-connected disability ratings of 50% to 69%.

Amendment 3 would allow most of Louisiana's civil service employees to support candidates for public office if they're immediate family members, something that's currently prohibited. The change would impact 51,000 workers, but would not extend to those working in the registrar of voters' offices or the state elections division.

Amendment 4 would allow local governments to reduce water bills if the charges stem from water lost due to damage outside a customer's control, which is currently prohibited with few exceptions.

Amendment 5 would give local taxing bodies more time to decide if they want to "roll forward" millages that increase property taxes paid by businesses and homeowners. The change would allow taxing bodies to roll forward their millage rates until the authorized millage expire, rather than until the next four-year assessment cycle as it currently stands.

Amendment 6 would limit increases in the property tax liability of homes subject to homestead exemption in Orleans Parish, capping reassessment increase to 10% of value in the previous year. The current system requires a four-year phase-in of tax liability for homes with a homestead exemption when reappraisals increase assessments by more than 50%.

Amendment 7 would change the state constitutional ban on slavery and involuntary servitude to allow use only for the "otherwise lawful administration of criminal justice," rather than the current wording that allows for involuntary servitude only as a "punishment for crime."

Amendment 8 would remove the requirement that certain property owners with disabilities annually certify their income to receive a property tax rate freeze. More than 194,000 homes received special assessments in the most recent year available from the Louisiana Tax Commission.

Amendment 1 for December would ban people who aren't U.S. citizens from registering to vote or casting ballots in Louisiana elections. Current law requires voters to be Louisiana citizens to cast ballots.

Amendment 2 for December would require Louisiana Senate confirmation of the governor's appointees to the State Civil Service Commission, something that's currently not required.

Amendment 3 for December would require Louisiana Senate confirmation of the governor's appointees to the State Police Commission, which is not a requirement now.

Louisiana Roads Are Among the Most Dangerous in the Country

(The Center Square) Traffic deaths are on the rise in the United States, according to a recent report from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. An estimated 20,175 people were killed in motor vehicle crashes from January through June 2022, the most in the first half of any year since 2006. (Here is a look at the deadliest year for car wrecks since seat belts became law.)

GAS BUDDY

The latest increase in traffic fatalities comes as Americans are spending more time on the road. U.S. drivers traveled 43.2 billion more miles in the first half of this year compared to the same period last year.

The recent increase in traffic fatalities is a continuation of a troubling long-term trend. Deaths on American roads rose for seven consecutive quarters, from mid 2020 to early 2022. A recent survey conducted by the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety found that the trend is partially the result of rising instances of risky behavior among motorists - including speeding, distracted driving, and driving under the influence of alcohol.

Some states stand out for having especially high traffic fatality rates so far this year. According to the NHTSA, there were an estimated 432 traffic fatalities in Louisiana in the first half of 2022, the 18th most among states.

After adjusting for vehicle miles traveled, however, Louisiana has the fourth highest traffic fatality rate in the country with 1.59 roadway deaths for every 100 million miles traveled. For context, there were an estimated 1.27 deaths per 100 million miles nationwide in the first half of the year.

Average gasoline prices in Louisiana have fallen 2.0 cents per gallon in the last week, averaging $3.05/g today, according to GasBuddy's survey ot 2,436 stations in Louisiana. Prices in Louisiana are 23.3 cents per gallon lower than a month ago and stand 16.5 cents per gallon higher than a year ago. The national average price of diesel has declined 2.9 cents in the last week and stands at $4.86 per gallon. According to GasBuddy price reports, the cheapest station in Louisiana was priced at $2.70/g yesterday while the most expensive was $3.79/g, a difference of $1.09/g. The lowest price in the state yesterday was $2.70/g while the highest weekly rise. But at the was $3.79/g, a difference of $1.09/g.

The national average price of gasoline has risen 11.1 cents per gallon in the last week, averaging $3.78/g today. The national average is up 0.4 cents per gallon from a month ago and stands 59.8 cents per gallon higher than a year ago, according to GasBuddy data compiled from more than 11 million weekly price reports covering over 150,000 gas stations across the country.

same time, areas of the Northeast and Gulf Coast have continued to see declines as the the nation experiences sharp differences in trends between regions," said Patrick De Haan, head of petroleum analysis at GasBuddy. "Some West Coast states saw prices rise 35 to 55 cents per gallon in the last week as refinery issues continued to impact gasoline supply, which fell to its lowest level in a decade in the region, causing prices to skyrocket. While I'm hopeful there will eventually be relief, prices could go a bit higher before cooling off.

In addition, OPEC could decide to cut oil production by a million barrels as the global economy slows down, potentially creating a catalyst that could push gas prices up further."

Changing leaves, crisper weather, and the emergence of pumpkin-flavored beverages are the few certainties in life when fall rolls around. In the nation's capital, a fourth certainty, a continuing resolution (CR) to keep the government funded, also seems automatic this time of year.

Congress is once again running up against a funding deadline that threatens to shut down the federal government this week if it is not addressed. This is sadly not new for America's legislative branch of government. All too often, this habit ends with an overly expensive funding bill, filled with pork and passed right before Christmas and American taxpayers holding the bag. As of right now, government funding will expire at 11:59pm this Friday. Currently, the plan is to pass a CR that would fund the government until shortly after the November midterm elections. The continuing resolution is expected to include a provision championed by U.S. Sen. Joe Manchin (D-W.Va.) on permitting reform. It may also include billions more in aid funding for Ukraine. Republican leadership is lobbying for immigration provisions to be included as well. This current path would be a mistake for a number of reasons. Congress should pass a clean CR, which does not include any extraneous policy agenda items, and which will extend into the next Congress.

While permitting reform, immigration reform, and the conflict in Ukraine may be issues of significant importance to the American public, they have no business being ushered in under a CR. Passing unrelated policy items in a government funding bill deprives each issue from being properly considered and debated in public view. Opponents cannot reasonably raise objections, as they'll be cynically accused of wanting to shut down the government. Given the importance of these issues, the time to discuss them and address them is not with the specter of government shutdown looming.

Further, with the stock market falling and inflation remaining at near-record highs, any government funding bill - CRs included - should be as efficient and slim as possible. The country is only a couple of years removed from the highest annual deficit in the nation's history. Now is not the time to be playing "pin the tail on the donkey (or elephant)" when it comes to government spending. The American people have borne enough to be used as piggy banks for Congress on mustpass legislation.

It is for these reasons that any CR must last through until at least the swearing in of the new 118th Congress in January - if not longer. Should - as rumors presently suggest – the CR only last until mid-December, that means another CR will be voted on by a lame duck Congress. It would mean dozens of politicians who have either been voted out of office, or who have retired, will have the ability to influence the spending priorities of the nation for another full year. This would be a disaster for accountability.

Another issue presented by having another shutdown showdown in December is the holiday recess that looms large in the minds of many members. Members of Congress want to spend Christmas and New Year's in their districts with their constituents and their families. As such, when government funding bills come down to the line right before Christmas, members will make any agreement to make sure they can get out of town as quickly as possible so they don't risk disrupting these holiday plans. Plus, Christmas is when many people will be distracted and not see what is happening in Congress.

These sorts of government funding bills are appropri-ately nicknamed "Christmas tree bills" because any number of provisions will be added onto them - like ornaments - to satisfy reluctant members. Not only is this essentially a backdoor return of earmarks, it also makes the funding bills far more expensive, expanding the debt and deficit, raising inflation, and leaving the hard working men and women of America to foot the bill.

Congress has a decision to make this week. In the interest of the nation, it is important that they leave the ultimate decision about the next fiscal year's finances to the next Congress. This will ensure some measure of accountability in the process. It will also serve to remove some of the worst temptations to balloon spending levels in the halls of the Capitol. As the leaves change, one can only hope congressional spending habits will finally change along with them. Passing a clean CR into next year would be an excellent first step.

Ramsey: Loyalty, respect, and the servant leader

DAVE RAMSEY

Special to the Minden Press-Herald

Loyalty is not gained by barking orders. The greatest generals have always known wars could not be won without the loyalty of their troops. By the same token, you cannot (and will not) win in business without the loyalty, respect and determination of your team. Respect is not the result of instilling a sense of fear in those around you. Your success depends on your team's success. These are some of the underlying principles of servant leadership, something I teach dayin and day-out.

No one likes a hypocrite. So, if you're going to talk the talk, you'd better make sure you walk the walk. Setting a good example as a leader is paramount to winning over your team. By putting forth your best effort every day, always telling the truth, and simply behaving as a respectful and responsible person, you will foster a sense of loyalty within your team. Remember, actions always speak louder than words. A quality culture occurs, and loyalty is born, when leaders follow through in a professional, proactive and predictable manner at every opportunity.

Part of being a servant leader is also listening to, and responding to the needs of, those around you. Spend time with the troops, and get down in the trenches with them regularly. Get to know them and their families. Ask their opinions. Just as importantly, surround yourself with other leaders who are willing to tell you the truth instead of what they might think you want to hear.

Finally, love your team well. Give them praise if you would expect to be praised. When you would expect a raise, give them raises. And always remember, nobody's perfect. This means you, too! There are times when everyone needs a little grace. Be willing to give it, and be caring in the process. If one of your team members needs to be reprimanded, do it privately in a prompt and constructive manner. Servant leaders always think of others first.

By following these principles, you really can inspire loyalty within your team. It will help turn "employees" into loyal and valued team members-ones who stand by your side, fight for your company and help everyone become more successful than you (or they) ever dreamed possible!

Glenbook dominates Arcadia in 53-20 blowout

T. SCOTT BOATRIGHT Minden Press-Herald

Glenbrook celebrated Homecoming 2022 in winning fashion Friday night as the Apaches defeated Arcadia 53-20 at Apaches Stadium

The Apaches struck first after a tentative start that saw both teams turn the ball over with Landry Powell putting Glenbrook on top late in the first quarter.

DJ Carter's scoring scamper with a little less than five minutes remaining in the second quarter extended the Apaches' lead to 14-0, which the Hornets cut to 14-6 at intermission with a late second-quarter score.

Touchdowns from quarterback Ty Feaster and Chase Sentell pushed the Glenbrook lead to 28-6 before a Fester field goal pushed the advantage to 31-6 early in the final stanza.

Turner McClelland and Tre Kent each added late touchdowns for the Apaches, who have now outscored opponents 219-65 on the season.

Glenbook (5-0) is now ranked No. 9 in GeauxPrep. com's Class 1A power ratings and No. 2 behind only St. Martin Episopal in GeauxPrep.com's Division IV select school power rankings using the format that will be used to determine the 2022 Louisiana High School Athletics Association playoff brackets.

SIBLEY - Lakeside sealed away the win with an interception with two seconds remaining that gave the Warriors a 34-28 victory over the Panthers in a second-half defensive slugfest Friday night at Warriors Stadium.

The Warriors used some special trickeraton to build an early advantage, scoring on their possession and then converting an onside kick into a touchdown to go up 12-0.

But the Panthers roared back in the second quarter to take a 22-20 advantage over the Warriors at intermission.

Lakeside opened the second half with another onsides kick recovery that pushed the Warriors on top 26-22 early in the third quarter.

The Warriors pushed that lead to 34-22 with around three minutes remaining, with the Panthers driving as deep as the Lakeside 15-yard line before fumbling the ball away.

Lakeside then went into the victory formation to move to 4-1 on the season.

LSU rallies for fourth straight win, 21-17 over Auburn

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — John Emery Jr. rushed for a tackle-breaking, 20-yard touchdown and Greg Brooks Jr. had a late interception to help LSU complete a 21-17, come-from-behind win over Auburn on Saturday night.

LSU (4-1, 2-0 South-Conference) eastern fell behind 17-0 before Javden Daniels brought the visiting Tigers back with help from Auburn blunders. It was the fourth straight win for Brian Kelly and LSU.

"We just found a way to win the game," said Kelly, LSU's first-year coach. "Was that our best performance? I hope not. But it was guttv, it was gritty, and I was proud of our guys the way they hung in there.

"As I told our guys, that's a culture win. that's a program win, where you're doing things the right way to win a game like that."

And Auburn (3-2, 1-1) helped out by doing plenty of things wrong. Auburn blew its second straight double-digit lead, but was bailed out by Missouri's goal line fumble in overtime last week.

There was no bailout out the clock. this time.

Auburn coach Bryan Harsin, who has been under fire since a late swoon last season, was asked how confident he was that he'd keep his job to the end of Year 2.

"That's my job, everyday, is to show up and make sure that I'm prepared and we get this football team prepared and that doesn't change, whatsoever," Harsin said.

"And I told the team that. That's how I approach every job I've had. This will be no different."

LSU came up with the last big play.

Brooks ripped the ball away from LSU transfer Koy Moore after a catch with 2:18 left in Auburn's fourth straight failure to capitalize on a trip across midfield.

"They ran (that play) like six times so I knew it was coming," Brooks said.

Backup quarterback Garrett Nussmeier, who came in after Daniels banged knees with an Auburn player in the fourth. was able to run

Daniels only passed for 80 yards but also ran for 59 and a one-yard touchdown with 15 seconds left before halftime. Kelly said Daniels could have kept playing and should be fine against No. 8 Tennessee, but it was his call not to send his dual-threat quarterback back out there.

Tailback Josh Williams ran for 68 yards in his first start.

Auburn's Robby Ashford passed for 337 yards and two touchdowns in his second start, including an early 53-yarder to Ja'Varrius Johnson and an 18-yarder to Camden Brown.

But he lost one of his four fumbles and threw the late interception.

Emery gave LSU its first lead late in the third quarter, breaking one tackle attempt in the backfield and having three other defenders get a hand on him.

Auburn then set up first-and-goal from the 5 before disaster struck early in the fourth.

missed field goal and called two timeouts on LSU's final drive of the half, keeping it alive with a personal foul on thirdand-long.

Daniels kept it for a 1-vard score with 15 seconds left.

SPORTS Sluggish start dooms GSU in 34-14 loss to PVA&M

T. Scott Boatright Minden Press Herald.

Once again, it just wasn't in the timing for the Grambling State University football team.

After two straight games of second-half Grambling struggles, State finally put together a strong final 30 minutes during Saturday's State Fair Classic against Prairie View A&M at the Cotton Bowl.

This time it was firsthalf woes that cost the Tigers.

The Panthers roared out to a big first-half lead that fueled a 34-14 win over Grambling State before a crowd of 53,971.

Prairie View took a 7-0 lead at the 4:31 mark of the opening stanza and built a 27-0 advantage by halftime as the Tigers just couldn't get started before intermission.

After forcing an early Grambling punt, Prairie View marched 80 yards on 16 plays with running back Ja'den Stewart scoring on a tw0o-yard run that put the Panthers on top 7-0.

The Panthers' scoring parade continued in the second quarter, with Luis Reyes booting field goals of 26 and 37 yards along with a 35-yard scoring scamper stretched Prairie View's advantage to 20-0 with 1:45 remaining in the first half.

But Prairie View wasn't done, as linebacker Xxavier Watson snatched up a ball he had stripped from a ball carrier and raced 40 yards untouched to paydirt to put Prairie View on up 27-0 at intermission.

Grambling finally notched its first score at the 4:42 mark of the second quarter when freshman Julian Calvez, who had come in to replace starting quarterback Quaterius Hawkins, scored on a five-yard run.

Calvez led Grambling to another score on the Tigers' next drive, which started at the Prairie View 30-yard line thanks to a fumble recovery.

Seven plays later tight end Noah Bean, who led GSU with four catches for 33 yards, hauled in a five-yard scoring reception with 1:22 left in the third quarter to cut Prairie View's lead to 27-14.

Prairie View's final score came when a punt hit a GSU defender and was pounced on in the end zone for a touchdown.

Grambling looked like it might score again, droving down to the Prairie View 20-yard line before turning the ball over on downs with 4:25 remaining, and the Panthers' offense chewed up the rest of the clock to seal the win.

Hawkins hit on five-ofnine pass attempts for 39 yards while Calvez connected on five-of-13 attempts for 82 yards with one touchdown and one interception.

Freshman Floyd Chalk led Grambling's run game with 47 yards on four carries while fellow freshman Chance Williams added 36 yards on in solo tackles, topped

The Vikings star receiver scored a touchdown and beat Marshon Lattimore on a 39-yard reception to set up Joseph's 47-yard field goal with 24 seconds left and Minnesota hung on for a 28-25 win over New Orleans on Sunday at Tottenham Hotspur Stadium.

Many of the Vikings (3-1), though, thought they were headed to overtime when Saints kicker Wil Lutz lined up for his 61-yard field goal attemp for the tie.

And why not? Lutz had hit a 60-yarder on their previous possession.

This one had the distance but hit the left upright and then the crossbar before bouncing out as time expired.

"When it left his foot I thought it was going in," Vikings coach Kevin O'Connell said. "It felt like that thing had a real good chance to go through and obviously a couple of bounces later we're able to walk off as

go-ahead Joseph's kick came after he had missed an extra point earlier in the quarter after Jefferson ran it in from 3 vards with 4:15 left in the fourth quarter.

The missed kick left the Vikings with a 25-22 lead.

The Saints then had an eight-play drive and Lutz made a 60-yard field goal with 1:51 left to tie the game for the Saints (1-3), who have lost three straight games.

"I thought they were both in," Lutz said. "I hit them both on the screws. The second one just moved a little more left. So kind of shocked it didn't bounce in."

Jefferson had 10 receptions for 147 yards after being limited to a total of nine receptions and 62 yards in the past two games, He was pleased to finally see some single coverage.

"Lattimore pretty much followed me the whole game, pretty much was a one-on-one battle the majority of the game," Jefferson said. "I was telling (O'Connell) the whole game we should throw it up, give me a chance to go up and make a big play."

Joseph was 5 for 5 on field goals as the Vikings squandered multiple scoring chances, but still held off a New Orleans team that played without key starters including quarterback Jameis Winston and running back Alvin Kamara.

"We still have to find a way to not hurt ourselves with penalties and the turnovers, and that's got to change," Allen said.

16-7, Saints Down backup quarterback Andy Dalton led two scoring drives to help New Orleans take a 22-19 lead. Saints tight end/ quarterback Taysom Hill took a direct snap and ran it in from 2 yards for the go-ahead score in the fourth quarter and Dalton found a wideopen Jarvis Landry for the 2-point conversion.

Dalton completed 20 of 28 passes for 236 yards and a touchdown.

The Vikings led 13-7 and had first-and-goal on the 3 after Jefferson's 41-vard reception in the third quarter, but were pushed back by a delay of game penalty. Cousins then threw short to Adam Thielen instead of going to a wide-open Iefferson in the back of the end zone.

One play earlier, Cousins threw behind Jefferson in the end zone and the receiver couldn't hold on.

SLOW START

The Saints began slowly again despite emphasizing a quick start all week. Alexander Mattison weaved through traffic for a 15-yard touchdown reception on Minnesota's opening drive.

The Saints had no first downs in the first quarter, but safety Tyrann Mathieu intercepted a pass and Dalton then drove the Saints 60 yards and found Chris Olave for a foue-yard touchdown pass — the rookie's first NFL touchdown — to make it 7-7 early in tunities deep in Saints territory late in the second quarter. Tight end Johnny Mundt dropped a short pass on a thirdand-1 from the 10 and Minnesota opted for a field goal.

On the next possession, Dalton fumbled on a strip-sack by Za'Darius Smith and Dalvin Tomlinson to give the Vikings the ball on the 20. They again settled for 3 points after an incompletion and a false start penalty. Joseph's 36-yard field goal gave the Vikings a 13-7 lead going into halftime.

GOOD LUCK IN LONDON

The Vikings improved to 3-0 in London games - with wins in three different stadiums. The Vikings beat the Pittsburgh Steelers 34-27 in 2013 at Wembley Stadium and topped the Cleveland Browns 33-16 four years later at Twickenham Stadium. This was the fifth NFL game at Tottenham, the Premier League club's stadium that cost more than $1 billion to build and opened in 2019.

Minden's Sneed helps seal Chiefs victory over Bucs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Patrick Mahomes had all the answers for solving Tampa Bay's stingy defense, winning his latest matchup against Tom Brady in the stadium where the seventime Super Bowl winner dealt him one of his most disappointing losses.

Mahomes threw for 249 yards and three touchdowns, including an electrifying jump pass to Clyde Edwards-Helaire, to lead the Chiefs to a 41-31 victory over the Buccaneers on Sunday night.

Playing at sold out Raymond James Stadium only four days after Hurricane Ian ravaged portions of Florida, Mahomes had touchdown throws of 16 yards to Travis Kelce, one yard to Edwards-Helaire and 10 yards to Jody Fortson while making NFL history by reaching 20,000 yards passing faster than anyone else.

Edwards-Helaire and tight end Noah Gray rushed for Chiefs' toucdowns. The Chiefs (3-1), who won the first meeting between Mahomes and Brady since Tampa Bay's 31-9 rout of Kansas City in the Super Bowl — also played at Raymond James Stadium - two seasons ago.

Chiefs cornerback L'Jarius Sneed, a product of Minden High School and Louisiana Tech University, sacked Brady, forcing a fumble that Mahomes turned into Gray's touchdown, with the tight end taking a direct snap from center on the oneyard plunge that put Kansas City up 28-10.

"When I came into the stadium I realized that I hadn't been here and the bad taste I had last time came into effect," Mahomes said. "But it's still not a playoff game. It's a regular-season game, which is important. That Super Bowl will always leave a bad taste for me."

The short pass to Edwards-Helaire was Mahomes at his improvisational best: He escaped two defenders, did a 360-degree spin move and flipped the ball over a crowd to the running back in the back of the end zone.

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
