CITY COUNCIL

Minden Airport secures funds

WILL PHILLIPS
Minden Press-Herald

The November City Council Meeting was a brief affair with most agenda items being passed unanimously including the city's application for a block grant as well as securing funds for the Minden Airport's development projects.

Mayor Davis also took the time to make citizens aware of the refurbishment project the downtown water tower is currently undergoing, letting citizens know that construction would be taking place around that area in coming months.

"Everyone should be aware that we are refurbishing the downtown water tank, the one on Broadway. So there is gonna be about three months worth of construction going on there, so just be mindful of that," said Davis.

He also went on to state that the project halted use of the water tower, and they have experienced some water pressure issues as a consequence. "Because of that, we are not able to store water in the tower, and it has given us some problems with water pressures. I think we got that worked out now," said Davis.

Davis went on to ask for the community's cooperation when it comes to filling out a survey for the Community Development Corporation, as doing so will make it possible for the city to acquire more funds for future development projects.

"We're doing a survey now. So if someone comes to your house and they're representing CDC (Community Development Corporation), please be cooperative with them and fill out the surveys, because those are the surveys that make it possible for us to get the grants," said Davis.

The monthly Minden City Council meeting takes place on the first Monday of each month at City Hall starting at 5:30 p.m. The meetings are open for the public to attend and, for those who can't be there in person or who want to watch it after the fact, the meeting is live-streamed at the city Facebook page and Youtube Channel titled, City of Minden - Feels Like Home.

CRIME

Three arrests made in murder at Minden Motel

STAFF REPORT
Minden Press-Herald

Three arrests have been made for the murder of a Minden man on November 5. The victim, now identified as Laricker Washington (32), was shot while standing in the doorway of his room at the Minden Motel.

TaShun Bailey (25) of the 700 block of Buck Street and Henry Brown, Jr. (27) of the 700 block of Brooks Alley have both been arrested and charged with 1st degree homicide. Kenisha Franklin (30) of the 1000 block of Cherry Street was also arrested and charged with obstructing justice.

"He [Washington] was shot in the doorway of his motel room sometime around 9:40-9:45 p.m. on Saturday night, November 5," said Minden Police Chief Steve Cropper. "Apparently, there was some bad blood between Mr. Bailey and our victim. Our victim was a big man. And, supposedly, some time in the recent past, our victim actually threatened our shooter with a gun. According to our shooter, he drank beer all that Saturday with his uncle at his uncle's house, got drunk and, when he left his uncle's house, he went out to find him something to smoke. As he was walking in that area, their paths crossed — the victim's and the shooter's paths crossed. The shooter says that he [Washington] stared at him and scared him, because he had already pulled a gun on him prior. He said it scared him so bad he went back to the house and got his gun. When he came back out and walked back by the motel, he saw him standing out there, and he said, 'I was just drunk. I was drunk, and I was scared. I just took my gun and shot him.'"

Another party involved was Henry Brown Jr, who kept watch for Bailey when Bailey shot Washington.

"He was there," said Cropper. "Under his own admission he was there, and that he was the lookout for him."

There was a woman present in the room at the time and, while she did not appear to have anything to do with the murder, she removed a firearm from the room and was therefore charged with obstructing justice.

"She [Franklin] was actually inside the motel room that Mr. Washington was at, and he had a firearm in that motel room the night that he was shot," said Cropper. "Prior to law enforcement getting there, she removed that firearm from the motel room and gave it to another young man to take it and hide it. The firearm was illegal because the serial number had been drilled out. I don't know what she was trying to accomplish because that firearm wasn't involved in this thing whatsoever. It was an AR-15 type rifle. There's still another arrest pending in regards to that particular gun."

Chief Cropper wanted to express his sincerest appreciation to his officers and other members of law enforcement for all the time and energy they put into solving this case.

"These guys have been working their butts off ever since it happened," said Cropper. "They've been out till 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning every night since it happened. They've interviewed so many different people, and everytime someone new would come in we'd get another name that we had to add or eliminate.

"I want to express my appreciation to the Webster Parish Sheriff's Office because they assisted and also the Marshal's task force and the DEA's task force. We had three or four search warrants, and they assisted in serving these search warrants. We had search warrants on two or three different houses, trying to locate the weapon that was used. They were a big help to us."

Bailey's bond has been set at $600,000. Henry Brown's bond has been set at $200,000. And Ms. Franklin's bond has been set at $20,000.

Supreme Court to hear arguments in immigration case brought by Texas, Louisiana

(The Center Square) – Oral arguments are scheduled to be heard before the U.S. Supreme this month in a case brought by Texas and Louisiana over the Department of Homeland Security altering policy to prohibit certain violent criminal foreign nationals from being detained and deported and instead releasing them into the U.S.

Ahead of oral arguments, Louisiana Attorney General Jeff Landry and Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton filed a brief with the court arguing, “Congress did not set agencies free to disregard legislative direction in the statutory scheme that the agency administers.”

The case addresses three key questions. The first is whether Texas and Louisiana have Article III standing to challenge guidelines issued by DHS that alter enforcement of civil immigration law. The second pertains to whether the guidelines conflict with U.S. immigration statutes 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c) or 8 U.S.C. §

1231(a) and if they violate the Administrative Procedure Act. The third pertains to whether 8 U.S.C. § 1252(f)(1) prevents the entry of an order to “hold unlawful and set aside” the guidelines under 5 U.S.C. § 706(2).

Texas and Louisiana sued after DHS Secretary Alejandro Mayorkas issued a final memorandum, “Guidelines for the Enforcement of Civil Immigration Law,” which drastically altered deportation policy, including limiting issuing detainer requests for dangerous criminal aliens.

His final September 2021 memorandum purports: “The fact an individual is a removable noncitizen therefore should not alone be the basis of an enforcement action against them. We will use our discretion and focus our enforcement resources in a more targeted way. Justice and our country’s well-being require it.”

A federal judge in Texas in June ruled in favor of Texas and Louisiana, vacating the final memo, prompting the administration to appeal.

U.S. District Judge Drew Tipton said Mayor- kas’ policy was “arbitrary and capricious, contrary to law, and failing to observe procedure under the Administrative Procedure Act.” He also denied all other requested relief brought by the administration.

The Department of Justice appealed, requesting the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals issue a stay of Tipton’s ruling. In early July, the court denied the stay pending appeal.

The DOJ then appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, requesting it to stay Tipton’s ruling. It didn’t and instead scheduled oral arguments to be heard before the court later this month.

“It’s hard to imagine a more dangerous and radical policy than the Biden Administration’s decision to allow violent criminals to roam freely in our communities,” Paxton said in a statement. “In order to protect Texas communities and uphold the rule of law, I’m urging the U.S. Supreme Court to uphold the district court’s judgment and require DHS to detain criminal illegal aliens.”

The brief highlights the district court’s previous ruling, which states, “Congress has mandated that the Executive must detain specific criminal aliens. ... When Congress requires the Executive to act, the Executive lacks the authority to disregard that instruction. This Court should affirm the district court’s judgment that the Final Memorandum harms States, is substantively and procedurally unlawful, and must be vacated.”

In July, 19 attorneys general filed an amicus brief expressing support for Texas’ and Louisiana’s lawsuit, arguing Mayor- kas violated federal law and DHS’s actions negatively impacted their states and jeopardized the safety and welfare of Americans.

ELECTION

Webster Parish election results for November 8 races

STAFF REPORT
Minden Press-Herald

Tuesday, the citizens of Webster Parish went out to the polls to cast their votes for who they would like to represent them in local politics, doing their part in shaping the course the parish will take throughout the next four years.

First, the winner of the Mayoral Election for the City of Minden was Nick Cox, winning 53% of the vote. Cox said about his win, “Our campaign slogan was Moving Forward Together. Tonight’s election results prove that, all across our community, that message resonated with our fellow citizens. I’m humbled by the support from our residents. Thank you, and I look forward to Minden’s future.”

In the race for Minden Chief of Police, Jared McIver won the race, receiving 56% of the vote. McIver said of his win, “I try to look at the positive, and one of the things I see is the amount of folks that believed in us. But then I see the amount of people we still need to reach. I see that there were 44% out there that voted the other way. Hopefully, in the next four years, we’ll persuade that 44% and do the best job that we can. I want to do everything I can to continue to build upon Chief Cropper.

“She [indicating Tokia Whiting-Harrison] is going to be my right arm. She’s going to be helping me up there at the police department. She knows that that was my first appointment — to appoint her as the first ever deputy chief position. And together she and I are going to continue to build up the department, build relationships in the city, fix whatever needs fixing, and just make it as professional as we can.

“I would like to say to my opponent, best wishes to him. He ran a good, clean race, and I appreciate his consideration.”

When it comes to City Council, some of the seats will be determined with runoff elections, but a few were determined outright in Tuesday’s election.

Levon “Charlie” Thomas won the race for City Councilman District C, receiving 50% of the vote. Michael Roy won the seat for City Councilman District D in yesterday’s election, receiving 53% of the vote. Andy Pendergrass won the seat for City Council District E, receiving 66% of the votes for that district.

Runoffs occur when one candidate does not get at least 50% plus 1 vote. In the event of a runoff, the top two candidates will run against each other. Councilman of District A will have a runoff between Wayne Edwards, who received 46% of the vote, and Carlton “Buddy” Myles who received 41% of the vote in last night’s election. There will also be a runoff for District C Councilman between Vincen Bradford who received 46% of the vote and Latasha Mitchell who received 25% of the vote.

For the wider population of Webster Parish, votes for a handful of School Board seats were up for grabs. In the race for Webster Parish School Board District 2, Debbie Thomas won receiving 61% of the vote.

In the race for Webster Parish School Board District 4 the race was won by Jonathan “Goose” Guthrie receiving 64% of the vote. Guthrie said, “The election results far exceeded my expectations! The support and encouragement received throughout the campaign was overwhelming. I started this effort to repay a debt owed to those that invested in me throughout my life. I must now make every effort to earn the trust that has been bestowed upon me. I will continue to work for staff and student safety as this is the foundation for giving our children the best opportunity to receive a quality education.

“My opponent has given eight years of time and energy providing honorable service to the Webster Parish School Board. JJ, her family, friends, and supporters should be commended for their efforts. Our competition was conducted with integrity and respect for one another.

“The election may be over but the hard work is just beginning. I will work passionately to help make our system better when addressing problems and concerns. I will be accountable to those that elected me. However, my effectiveness requires your participation as well. It is widely believed that geese honk to encourage one another when in flight. That sound is also believed to help maintain the integrity of the flock and to coordinate position. This “GOOSE” does not fly alone! Join the “FLOCK” so we can work together!! I covet your thoughts, prayers, and encouragement as we move ahead!”

The race for Webster Parish School Board District 6 was won by Jana Watson receiving 63% of the vote. “I would like to thank the voters for their support. I am looking forward to working for our schools to make them the best they can be. I look forward to representing the kids and our teachers,” said Watson.

The race for Webster Parish School Board District 8 was won by Glenda Broughton receiving 64% of the vote. “I just want to say thank you to everybody; I was just overwhelmed. We will continue to do everything we can for the kids of Webster Parish,” said Broughton.

In Springhill, the Mayoral Election will have a runoff between Ray Hudleston who received 47% of the votes and Ronnie Hearnberger who received 34%.

For the Springhill Alderman’s races, District 1 was won by D. Nicole Frazier with 69% of the votes, District 2 was won by Dennis Smith with 66% of the votes, District 3 was won by Stacey Willard with 57% of the votes, and District 4 was won by Mike Whitlock with slightly more than 50% of the votes. This is an example that shows that every vote counts; Whitlock won by just one vote beyond the 50% plus one votes needed. District 5 was won by Derek Melancon with 60% of the votes.

In Doyline, Christie Gates won the Mayoral Election with 56% of the votes.

Nell Finlay was elected Alderman for Dixie Inn with a whopping 82% of the votes.

It should be noted that these are the “unofficial” results for Webster Parish. While expected to remain accurate, it typically takes until the end of an election week to verify all the votes and confirm them as official. Any races that defaulted to a runoff election will take place later this year on December 10.

OTHER OPINION

Mid-term elections bring significant, positive results

History has shown that the party of the president typically loses seats in the mid-term elections and that has occurred in the U.S. House of Representatives although we don't yet know how large the Republican majority may be.

Regardless, Republican control of the House—the Chamber in which the Constitution requires that spending bills originate—will be enough to block the Biden Administration's legislative agenda and reckless spending spree. That is why winning the U.S. House of Representatives is a galactic victory for all Americans and Louisianans.

At the time of this writing, it appears that Democrats have won the Senate races in Nevada and Arizona. If these results hold under scrutiny, the December runoff in Georgia between Herschel Walker and his socialist democrat opponent won't determine Senate control but would return the 50-50 split that has been in place for two years, and since the last Georgia run-offs of 2020.

In terms of the interminably long 'vote counting' process, I always find it inexplicable that in such a technologically advanced age in which most information is instantly available at one's fingertips, where we've gone to the moon and are now returning to space, we cannot seem to count votes more quickly for an election we know for certain will occur every two or four years. Perplexing and suspicious, in my view.

In the U.S. House, the new majority could be from plus 15-25 seats. Regardless, it will be a Republican House Majority which certainly bodes well for Louisiana. U.S Rep. Steve Scalise will likely become the 2nd ranking Republican in the U.S House while our very own U.S. Rep. Mike Johnson will also hold one of the top Republican leadership spots. This is in addition to the committee U.S. Rep Johnson already serves on, the Judiciary Committee, as well as the Armed Services Committee, including specifically the Subcommittee on Readiness as well as the Subcommittee on Cyber, Innovative Technologies, and Information Systems. These important committee assignments allow Rep. Johnson to continue to protect Barksdale Air Force Base as well as Ft. Polk and other military interests throughout Louisiana.

The larger point to feel positive and encouraged about is that for Louisiana, as small as we are comparatively, to hold two of the top leadership spots in the U.S. House is remarkable!

Further, in northeast Louisiana, U.S Rep. Julia Letlow of the 5th Congressional District will be serving on the House Appropriations Committee which is invaluable to our state. She will be uniquely positioned to address and protect key funding issues across our whole state. She will also serve on the House Agriculture Committee, including specifically the Subcommittee on Agriculture and Rural Development, which is so very important to our rural, heavily agricultural state. This also means when the next national Farm bill comes up, she will have direct input into the development of the legislation.

Still further, U. S. Rep Clay Higgins of Lafayette will become a high-ranking member of the Committee on Homeland Security Committee. This will allow him to have direct input regarding the invasion on our southern border of illegal aliens. He can directly address the issue of illegals and the drugs (fantasy is killing hundreds of Americans daily across the country), theft, crime, terrorists, and human trafficking that accompanies them. As we know, states like Texas and Florida, in particular, have been burdened with the enormous financial and social costs of a flood of illegals into our country.

Additionally, U.S. Rep.

Garret Graves of Baton Rouge currently serves on both the U.S. House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee as well as U.S. House Natural Resources Committee. Both of these committees provide Rep. Graves with the ability to directly influence policy regarding flood control, hurricane protection, and coastal restoration, all critically important needs for our state given the extreme weather events with which our beloved Louisiana annually battles.

U.S Senator John Kennedy was also overwhelmingly re-elected and has been serving on the Appropriations Committee—and crucially important to Louisiana, he serves as the top Republican on the Appropriations Subcommittee on Energy and Water Development.

As we conclude a challenging and yet successful year there is much for which to be grateful in the new Congress. With all of our prayers and best efforts, our state and our country will continue to move forward through our brilliantly constructed governmental structure and under the watchful eye of our Founders who gave us what President Lincoln described as this 'last best hope of earth.'

Words to live by that wakes me up at night

A gifted violinist was asked how she became so accomplished to which she replied "I practice first and then I do my work."

The lesson to be learned here is that in order to accomplish anything we have to be focused.

If we try to do everything other people want us to do we won't have time to do the things that we want to do.

If we aren't focused we may find ourselves scattered, "living in the gray areas, knowing neither victory nor defeat."

There are so many lessons to be learned if we will just take the time to listen and learn from other people who have gone before.

Much jealousy would be eliminated if we would read Desiderata by the poet, Max Ehrman. He admonished us by writing: "Avoid loud and aggressive persons. They are a vexation to the spirit." How true.

Them he went on to say "Be gentle with yourself, you are no less than the trees and the stars. You have a right to be here"

In the same vein of thought he said "do not compare yourself to others. There will always be greater and lesser persons. Listen to the dull and ignorant. They too have their story."

Desiderata could easily be a creed for life, thus eliminating much strife in our nation, home and market place.

SARAH HUDSON PIERCE

One of the greatest lessons comes from the the Bible when Solomon wrote "pride goes before and a haughty spirit before a fall." And in another place the Bible says "let another man praise you and not your own mouth."

That is a mouth full!

There is much to be learned from divine writ as well as those who have the wisdom to know how to live.

Life is truly a learning place with no dress rehearsal which reminds me of something I heard someone say "when they are lowering me in the ground I will sit up and say 'hey wait a moment. I have it all figured out.'"

We never get it all figured out.

We are human but maybe -- just maybe we can listen to the words of others and protect ourselves from disaster if we close our ears to those who have gone before us.

The Italian psychologist Doctor Leo Buscaglia, added his two bits when he wrote "We would get along better if we would look at each other as just grown up children."

If we would do this there would be less friction.

Oh well, enough for one sitting but I derive much pleasure from letting my thoughts roll, printed on the page. I know that if I don't tell my story no one else can or ever will because we each have our own story that just might lend support to future generations but we must first write it down.

Without God I can do nothing.

Don't rely on the Fed for anything but recessions

S. T. KARNICK
Special to the Minden Press-Herald

With its latest interest rate hike, the Federal Reserve is desperately trying to repair the economic damage caused by the fiscal and regulatory policies of the Biden administration. Unfortunately, persistence in this course will only "solve" the problem by crashing the economy, which it is perversely intended to do.

The Fed's attempts to correct for overspending by Congress and the president are a problem, not a solution.

"The Federal Reserve and other central banks are raising interest rates to beat back inflation by slowing economic growth," The Wall Street Journal reports.

The Fed's manipulation of interest rates has a strange logic. When the federal government overspends (note: it never underspends) and thereby fuels inflation, the Fed reins in the economy by increasing interest rates, which makes it more difficult to borrow money with which to invest in productive enterprise or finance consumer purchases.

When that causes high unemployment, the Fed reverses course and pumps money into the economy to spur investment and personal spending.

As a result, the Fed routinely sees good news as bad and bad news as good: a growing economy and low unemployment are seen as inflationary, and the solution is a recession.

The Fed implemented record-low interest rates throughout President Barack Obama's tenure, to mitigate the damage of his high-spending fiscal policies and repressive regulatory regime in the wake of the 2008 recession.

The Fed then increased the federal funds rate during the Trump administration until the 2020 Covid lockdowns. Trump's tax cuts and regulatory reforms stimulated economic activity and raised wages – bad news! – so the Fed applied interest rate hikes to keep people from wanting to buy too many goods and services and presumably unleash inflation. The economy expanded anyway, because Trump's supply-side reforms unleashed greater production of goods and services.

After the record-swift recovery from the Covid depression during Trump's final year in office, President Joe Biden and the congressional Democrats engaged in a spending spree ostensibly intended to stimulate the economy, which was already expanding nicely. The Fed added accelerants by keeping interest rates at near-record lows, and Biden went on a regulatory binge that throttled investment. Those irresponsible decisions pushed inflation to levels not seen in more than 40 years. Now the Fed craves a good, hard recession to make everything better.

"The Fed is operating on the assumption that the only way to get inflation down is with decreased demand. And the only way they're going to do that is if the unemployment rate ticks higher," Thomas Simons, an economist at Jefferies Financial Group Inc., told The Wall Street Journal.

Uh-oh: new claims for unemployment compensation fell slightly during the last full week of October, the Department of Labor reported on Thursday.

That is awful news, according to the Fed.

"The broader picture is of an overheated labor market where demand substantially exceeds supply," Fed Chairman Jerome Powell had told the press on Wednesday.

This is a particularly destructive line of thinking because unemployment is a lagging indicator: it rises after the economy has begun to slow, not the other way around. Relying on unemployment to indicate economic tightening is like seeing ice-skaters as a harbinger of cold weather.

In hoping for a "real softening" of the labor market, Powell is channeling his inner Paul Volcker, the Fed chair from 1979 through 1987, who has been lionized for beating inflation by raising interest rates radically – as high as 22 percent – and bringing on two deep recessions.

Volcker, however, had the benefit of pro-market federal government policies absent today. Congress and President Ronald Reagan lowered federal taxes and carried out much-needed economic deregulation. That enabled the American people to increase the amount of goods and services they produced, which resulted in strong, steady economic growth.

Relying on the Fed to reduce inflation created by high government spending and tight economic regulation damages the economy without solving the underlying problem, which is the dead weight of government that is holding down productive enterprise.

The real solution is for the federal government to return not to Volcker's recession-inducing rate hikes but to the pro-market policies of the Reagan administration.

Fortunately, upcoming GOP control of the U.S. House of Representatives provides an opportunity to put the brakes on Biden's bizarre plan to destroy the nation's economy. With a president who gleefully states his intention to cancel the Industrial Revolution, the American people desperately need the checks and balances of a more-sensible Congress to ensure that does not happen.

Webster Parish playoffs: Down to 1 team

Glenbrook lone team left in round two of postseason play

Minden Press-Herald

The undefeated Glenbrook Apaches are the only Webster Parish in this season's Louisiana High School Athletic Association playoffs, which move into second-round action this weekend.

Glenbrook completed its 2022 regular season unbeaten as the Apaches took over early to defeat River Oaks 46-14 at Apaches Stadium before opening the playoffs with a bye as the sixth seed among Division IV Select Schools.

The Apaches (10-0) become one of only five unbeaten teams in Louisiana heading into the playoffs with unblemished records, joining Destrehan (10-0), De La Salle (9-0), Many (9-0) and Vermilion Catholic (10-0).

Now Glenbrook will play host to the winner of 11th-seeded Catholic-Point Coupee, which defeated 22nd-seeded Central Private 50-6 in a first-round game played last weekend.

The Apaches were ineligible for postseason play last year in their first, probationary year as a LHSAA member school.

But this year the Apaches are right in the thick of postseason, and head coach David Feaster knows Friday night will be unlike any playoff game his team has played before.

That's because even though the Apaches were no strangers to MidSouth Independent Association of Schools postseason play, the atmosphere Feaster expects his team to see and experience was nothing then compared to what is expected against Catholic-Point Coupee.

"The older guys have played a playoff game at home," Feaster said. "They won a playoff game at home. But that was nothing like this is going to be. Looking at film, there was maybe a fifth of the crowd here then for that playoff game then compared to the crowds we've had the past few home games.

Glenbrook High School's offense is averaging 44.8 points per game on the season and have scored 50 or more points four times.

"It's just a whole different environment out there now. The playoff experience this team has happened in that win over Homer. It happened during that last regular-season game against River Oaks. That gave us a taste of the atmosphere we're going to see out there Friday night. It's going to be crazy."

Feaster feels his Apaches will be ready.

"After we beat Haynesville earlier this season, I think the guys started asking if Haynesville was that bad or if we were that good," Feaster said. "And I had to tell them, Haynesville isn't that bad."

"We're hungry. We're ready. This team is on a mission and they're only getting started. We're going to take it one game at a time and focus on the goal we've had since before the season began — winning a state title."

The Apaches' defensive unit has held opponents to only 16.1 points per game this season.

Lakeside drove inside the Avoyelles 40-yard line on its opening drive before the Mustangs picked off a pass to end the Warriors' early scoring opportunity.

The Mustangs then methodically drove downfield with Decareyn Sampson dashing to paydirt on a 40-yard scoring scamper that put Avoyelles up 7-0.

And then the rout was on as Avoyelles stormed past Lakeside 60-0 in the opening round of the Division III Nonselect School playoffs.

The Warriors, the 28th and final seed, reached the Avoyelles 42-yard line on the ensuing possession before being pushed back and turning the ball over on downs.

Fifth-seeded Avoyelles marched downfield for its second score and never looked back.

It was the Warriors first playoffs appearance since 2019, when Lakeside upset North Caddo 33-28 in the first round before falling to Capitol 38-34 in second-round play.

Lakeside's season ended at 5-6 while the Mustangs moved to 8-3 and will play host to 21st-seeded St. Helena College and Career Academy on Friday in the second round of the Division III Nonselect School playoffs.

Hoops shocker: G-Men beat Colorado

GRAMBLING — For the second time in school history, the Grambling State University men's basketball team has defeated a member of a Power 5 conference.

Grambling State (2-0) led from start to finish on Friday night as the Tigers held off Colorado, 83-74, in the SWAC/Pac-12 Legacy Series at the Fredrick C. Hobby Assembly.

GSU's last victory over a member of a Power 5 conference came on December 1, 2017 as the Tigers edged Georgia Tech, 64-63, in Atlanta.

"It's nothing like playing at home," GSU head coach Donte Jackson said., "There's nothing like playing in front of your family and friends and being able to compete at a high level."

LSU takes over SEC West; LA Tech, GSU fall

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — LSU coach Brian Kelly told Harold Perkins Jr. he reminded him of Michael Jordan after the seventh-ranked Tigers beat Arkansas 13-10 on Saturday.

The freshman linebacker, whose strip-sack of Arkansas quarterback Cade Fortin with 1:17 left clinched the win and kept LSU's College Football Playoff hopes alive, had the flu before the teams kicked off, the coach said.

When Kelly told Perkins that his effort against the Razorbacks reminded him of MJ against the Jazz in 1997, Kelly said the teenager responded, "Who's MJ?"

Perkins finished with two forced fumbles, four sacks and eight tackles. His teammate Mekhi Wingo pounced on the loose ball at the Arkansas 44 to clinch the win for LSU (8-2, 6-1 Southeastern Conference).

LSU's defense allowed 249 yards to Arkansas' offense, which by game's end was down to its third-string quarterback.

The Razorbacks (5-5, 2-4) attempted to rally in the fourth quarter when Fortin entered in the third quarter to replace an ineffective Malik Hornsby. Fortin threw a 40-yard touchdown pass to Matt Landers with 13:12 left to pull Arkansas within three.

But LSU's offense was little bit better, gaining 284 yards — more than 150 below its season average. Josh Williams ran for 122 of those yards and scored the Tigers' only touchdown, a 1-yarder, late in the third quarter to provide LSU a 10-point lead. Only one of the Tigers' 13 series yielded more than 40 yards.

"We are far from a finished product," Kelly said. "I don't think anybody in that locker room thinks we have arrived."

Arkansas sacked LSU quarterback Jayden Daniels seven times, limiting the SEC's top rusher at the position to 10 yards on 19 carries. Daniels completed 8 of 15 passes for 86 yards and an interception.

"I think the defense played so well that that gave us a chance. They kept us in it," Arkansas coach Sam Pittman said. "I thought when Landers got the long one that we were going to rally around that and it seemed like it was the same story. Just didn't seem to find a way to be consistent."

LSU forced Arkansas' hand by stifling Hornsby, who ran for 37 yards on 18 carries and finished 4 of 9 passing for 24 yards. Daniels found Kayshon Boutte for a 26-yard gain on a single pass one play ahead of Williams' touchdown with 5:25 left in the third quarter.

The Razorbacks were without their usual starting quarterback, KJ Jefferson, announcing minutes before kickoff that Jefferson would not play due to a shoulder injury. Fortin finished 8 of 13 for 92 yards with the score and the lost fumble.

LSU can clinch the SEC West and a spot in the SEC Championship with a victory in the season finale in two weeks against Texas A&M.

"We've got a lot of work to do this journey, but we're still finding ways to win football games," Kelly said.

Grambling linebacker Sundiata Anderson (9) was credited with half a sack on this tackle made Saturday at Texas Southern.

6 yards out to send the Demons into intermission with a 21-14 advantage.

Clements threw 22 yards to Zach Patterson and 24 yards to Kennieth Lacy for touchdowns in the second half and PJ Herrington added a 38-yard pick-6.

Clement was 25-of-43 passing for 223 yards and was picked off twice. Patterson finished with 15 catches for 92 yards.

Three quarterbacks were a combined 17-of-35 passing for 147 yards and two touchdowns with an interception for Texas A&M-Commerce (5-4, 3-2).

UTSA 51, LA Tech 7

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Kevorian Barnes and Brenden Brady scored two touchdowns apiece and UTSA beat Louisiana Tech on Saturday, assuring the Roadrunners of at least a tie for the Conference USA championship.

UTSA (8-2, 6-0), which has won seven straight, finishes the regular season with games versus Rice and UTEP.

The Roadrunners scored on nine of their 10 possessions, picking up 20 points off four of their five takeaways.

Frank Harris threw a 9-yard touchdown pass to Joshua Cephus, Barnes ran 46 yards for another, and Brady scored from a yard out to jump out in front 21-0. It was 34-7 at halftime.

Barnes finished with 103 yards on 11 carries, Brady added 53 to UTSA's total 258 on the ground. Harris was 18-of-26 passing for 216 yards with a 32-yard TD pass to Smoke Harris late in the first quarter.

The Bulldogs (3-7, 2-4) were intercepted three times and lost two fumbles.

Texas Southern 41, GSU 7

HOUSTON (AP) — Andrew Body threw two touchdown passes — including a 65-yarder to AJ Bennett — and Texas Southern breezed to a 41-7 victory over Grambling on Saturday night.

LaDarius Owens gave Texas Southern (5-5, 4-3 Southwestern Athletic Conference) a 7-0 lead midway through the first quarter on a 1-yard scoring run. Freshman Julian Calvez fired a 37-yard scoring strike to Joshua Johnson four minutes later to pull Grambling (3-7, 2-5) even.

Body needed just 1:48 to march 54 yards, hitting Tavaris Achane for a 15-yard touchdown with 23 seconds left in the period. Body's long touchdown pass to Bennett was the only score of the second quarter and the Tigers took a 21-7 lead into intermission.

Isaiah Hamilton picked off a Quaterius Hawkins pass and returned it 12 yards for a score and Kevin Harris added a 1-yard touchdown run with five seconds left in the third quarter to put Texas Southern up 33-7. Daveon Ford scored from a yard out on a fourth-quarter run to end the scoring.

Body completed 13 of 20 passes for 190 yards. Owens carried 13 times for 105 yards.

Calvez and Hawkins combined to complete 10 of 23 passes for 118 yards with an interception apiece for GSU.

Traditions/rituals/superstitions spice up hunting

GLYNN HARRIS

If you're a bass fisherman, don't you dare catch a fish on your first cast. Tradition has it that you'll have lousy success the rest of the day. That's why I usually flip my first cast out near the boat where no bass could possibly be lurking and retrieve it quickly before a fish finds it.

And If you're a hunter, there are many more traditions we deal with every hunting season. Of course, you remember what happened when you got your first deer. You were probably a little squirt and were proud to wear the badge of a successful hunter; you got blood from your deer liberally smeared over your face.

You also remember the first time you missed a deer; the "kind and compassionate" members of your hunting party un-ceremoniously relieved you of the tail of your shirt; it's probably still hanging on the wall at the camp along with those shirttails of others who missed deer.

I was speaking at an outdoor event a few years ago and an elderly gentleman approached me after my talk and handed me a bag containing a couple of buckeye balls, the nut that grows on the buckeye shrub, a nut that looks somewhat like the eye of a deer.

"Put this in your pocket when you go hunting, rub on it and a buck will walk out by your stand," he told me. I've tried it several times and all I've seen are squirrels and woodpeckers. Maybe I'm rubbing it wrong.

Tradition has it if you carry buckeye balls in your pocket, occasionally rubbing them, you're likely to see a buck

I did an internet search and picked up some traditions/rituals/superstitions from around the country practiced by deer hunters.

One bow hunter offered this ... "I listen to 'Fred Bear' by Ted Nugent in order to make the transition from suburbia to the forest complete." In case you don't know who Fred Bear was, he's the father of traditional bow hunting whose success with stick and string is legendary. Ted Nugent? He's a rock star and a militant spokesman for hunting.

One of the strangest events is this one offered by a hunter..."I eat half a banana on my way to my hunting spot and bury the other half next to my stand. My grandmother told me my grandfather always did it and it seemed to work for him." Hmmm ...

The only ritual I cotton to involving my hunting has to do with squirrels. No matter if a hurricane is raging, rain is pouring, wind is howling or it hasn't rained in a month and walking in the woods is like walking on corn flakes, I have to be there on opening day. Something about opening day of squirrel season was ingrained in me as a youngster when my dad would get my brother and me all hyped up for squirrel season opening.

In tandem with my opening day ritual, another tradition closely follows and whether or not I get to engage in it depends on how my opening morning progresses.

Upon returning from my opening day squirrel hunt, I'll select a young and tender squirrel from my bag, clean it and prepare it for my opening day brunch. Cutting the squirrel into quarters, I'll dust it with flour, salt and pepper and fry it until golden brown.

While the squirrel is frying, I'll pop some biscuits in the oven. In the past I made my own but since that gifted lady Mary B. came along, I've found that hers are better than mine anyhow.

Once the squirrel and biscuits are done, I'll make gravy and spoon it over the biscuits and bite down on that tender sweet squirrel leg. No need for half a banana when you have this heavenly manna.

Fishing Report

BLACK BAYOU — Bass have been fair around the trees and brush. Crappie fishing has improved around the deeper trees and brush. No report on bream. Contact Honey Hole Tackle Shop 323-8707 for the latest information.

OUACHITA RIVER — The water is at pool stage with no current. Everything is on the slow side except lots of catfish are being caught. For the latest information, contact the Honey Hole Tackle Shop at 323-8707.

LAKE D'ARBONNE — Crappie fishing had been quite good fishing spider rigs 16-18 feet deep along the channel edges and drops. Bass fishing has been better in the mornings fishing Bandit crank baits in the Citrus shad and Silver Minnow Sparkle pattern. Best catches have been made along the banks and off the points. The bream have about shut it down but catfish can still be caught fishing cold worms off the banks. For the latest information, call Anderson Sport Center at 368-9669 or Honey Hole Tackle Shop at 323-8707.

LAKE CLAIBORNE — Crappie fishing has improved with some nice fish being caught around brush in the deeper holes mostly on shiners. Bass have been best skipping jigs under the docks with soft plastics picking up some off the points. No report on bream, catfish or stripers. For latest information, call Kel's Cove at 927-2264 or Terzia Tackle at 278-4498.

CANEY LAKE — Crappie fishing continues to be best fishing the deep tops on shiners or jigs. The bass have been best with some nice-sized fish are being caught fishing the points with Carolina rigged soft plastics while some are also being caught fishing with jigging spoons off the bottom in deeper water. Bandit crank baits are producing some around the docks and piers. No report on bream or catfish. For information contact Hooks Marina at 249-2347, Terzia Tackle at 278-4498 or the Honey Hole Tackle Shop at 323-8707.

LAKE POVERTY POINT — Crappie fishing has improved with bigger fish caught on the south end while the area around the boat slips have been fair on shiners or jigs. Catfishing has been good on a variety of baits. No report on bass or bream. For the latest reports, call Poverty Point Marina at 318-878-0101.

LAKE YUCATAN — The water is quite low. Some nice crappie are being caught around underwater structures on shiners or jigs. No report on bass, bream or catfish. For information, call Surplus City Landing at 318-467-2259.

ARE YOU IN THE WILL?

At our age, questions about our last will might come up when the family gathers for special occasions. We all know how important this is in this day and time. A lot of jokes have been made about ‘the will,’ especially when folks our age get together. When Son-dra’s mother was in Shumpert, during her last days, Sister Ernestine was meeting with another family about the same time she was ministering to us.

We overheard the brother of the dying man ask the Sister, “Did he tell you where the title to the truck is?” Not once, but three times. Finally, Sister told him this was no time to talk about the title. We have wondered if the dying man had a will which would have settled all of that. We make jokes about our rich uncle dying and leaving us an oil well in downtown Dallas.

But you know what? Our Heavenly Father has provided much more than a rich uncle could. Most of us remember Howard Hughes. He was a very wealthy man - money, power, pretty women all around, etc. But he became paranoid, afraid of catching diseases, etc...and spent the last months of his life in a bubble. Yes, a bubble! It was said, he was so protective of his wealth, he was sure he might take it with him. But as one onlooker said, “there was no U-Haul truck following the hearse to the cemetery.” You’ve heard it said, ‘you can’t take it with you.’ And that is true.

Jesus was confronted with a young rich man who said ‘he wanted to be a disciple of Jesus.’ “What shall I do to be saved and be your disciple?” he asked Jesus. “Well, you need to go and sell all your possessions, give the money to the poor and then come and follow Me,” was Jesus’ reply. Scriptures tell us, he went away very sad for he was quite wealthy. He was not in control of his wealth, it was controlling him. His possessions were his god, his idol.

Has it ever occurred to you that God has a Will for you? Yes, He has a will for all of us. He has plans for each of us. (Jeremiah 29: 31) “For I know the plans I have for you, declared the Lord, plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future. Then you will call upon Me, come and pray to Me, and I will listen to you. You will seek Me and find Me when you seek Me with all your heart.” Jesus’ invitation to be His disciple and live the fulfilled life is found in Luke 9: 23 -24: “If anyone would come after me, he must deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me. For whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for me will save it.”

I think it is very important to have a will and make all arrangements necessary for the ‘end of life’ – make it as easy as possible for our family. Even more important is to follow these words of Jesus: “Seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, then all the necessary things will be yours –(satisfy the wishes of our Heavenly Father and He will provide for you in this life.)”(Luke 12: 27-32, 34). He also teaches: ‘Do not store up earthly treasures, where moth and rust corrupts and destroys, and where thieves can break in and steal. But store up for you treasures in heaven, where moth and rust do not destroy, and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is there your heart will be also.’ (Matt 6: 19-21).ARE YOU IN THE WILL?

Whether we inherit the boat, the arrow-head collection or 5 acres in the middle of the Atchafalaya Basin will in no way compare to what our inheritance will be in Christ Jesus. I encourage you to make complete arrangements via a will for your family and estate, and more importantly, arrangements for your eternal inheritance. God is waiting for you to make the first move.

No Longer Walk

“Now this I say and testify in the Lord, that you must no longer walk as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their minds.” Ephesians 4:17 ESV

Max Hutto

Paul is powerfully testifying what the Lord commands for every believer. He previously declared that every believer is to walk, to live every moment of every day, to live in a manner worthy of the calling of Christ. Paul now exhorts every believer not to walk or live like the Gentiles who do not know Christ. Unbelievers fill their minds with every form of selfish and foolish sinful desires that will ultimately come to nothing but pointless folly and ruin. Instead believers must fill their minds with purity and holiness.

Lord Jesus, help my life to be radically different from an unbeliever’s life. Help my daily walk to radiate Your holiness, grace, mercy, and love.

Let’s Take A Walk

In the book of Mark, Jesus encountered a rich young ruler. This young man inquired as to how he could gain eternal life and Jesus answered his question with a question. Have you kept all the commandments? The young man declared yes since I was a boy. Satisfied with this answer Jesus gave this young man a task sell all you own give it to the poor and follow me. The rich young man wasn’t up for this task so he inquired no more and left sad and wanting. We all have things that we hold precious but the question we should all ask ourselves is do these things take precedence over God and his call on your life? God has called us all to do something for his kingdom and sometimes that requires us to give up some of our earthly, goals, desires, and possessions. My question to you today is are you willing and ready to make the sacrifice and dive in? There are so many beautiful things to be seen while you walk with Jesus and follow his teachings. So will you follow Jesus or be left wanting?
