Denise Edwards celebrates 40 years at tax assessor's office

WILL PHILLIPS Minden Press-Herald

The Webster Parish Assessor's office recently hosted a celebration of Denise Edwards and her 40th anniversary working at the assessor's office. She began her career at the age of 16 when she started working in the assessor's office during the summers while working on her accounting degree from Louisiana Tech University. Since then, she has worked under every administration and now leads the office as the Assessor.

It is quite a feat to work at the same place in any career for 40 years. The immense appreciation of Denise and her work was on full display; the offriends, and family, who all came out to share in this special occasion.

Introducing Denise Edwards was Dr. Rich-Campbell, who

Fitness court coming to Victory Park

AMBER MCDOWN Minden Press-Herald

The preliminary work has begun on the new Fitness Court©, a type of outdoor gym, in Victory Park, though the erratic weather has caused major delays. The court, which is being built on one of the existing tennis courts, is expected to be completed in May. The fitness court will be an open-air, open-concept gym featuring 10-12 stations where a wide variety of exercises can be performed. Each station will feature a QR code that will allow users to access the recommended exercises using their cell phones.

"You can go up to it with your phone and scan the QR code on the wall, and it can tell you, 'Station One, these are the various exercises you can do. Station Two, these are other exercises you can do,' so it's built-in for everybody," said Mike Aguilar, Assistant Director of Minden Parks and "It's even Recreation.

So we're trying to get people active and into the parks. Victory Park is one of our most popular parks, and it's centrally located in the city, so that's why we picked that park."

There will also be two pickleball (a modified form of tennis) courts created in Victory Park using an existing tennis court as its base. Due to the size of the slab, these courts will be set up length-wise in-half and have them side-

"So, while the adults are playing pickleball or working out, the kids can play in the park."

It was hoped that the existing slabs would be suitable to build directly on, but a 40 by 40-foot section had to be repaired and reinforced in preparation for the installation. For the installation to work properly, they will need at least 24 hours guaranteed to be above 50°, hence the delay.

This fitness court will provide great opportunities to people who want to work out. And it has been paid for almost entirely with grants. "Rocke [Musgraves, the former director of the REC] started this. The National Fitness Campaign...we got a $30,000 grant from them. CenterPoint Energy gave us a $25,000 grant for the installation. And Senator Mills' office gave us a $100,000 grant. McInnis Construction also con-

These are going to be wonderful additions to Victory Park which should encourage more fun and fitness. The upcoming upgrades to other local parks will be featured in a future article in the Minden Press-Herald.

appreciation of her fellow office workers and the appreciation of our community."

Afterward, Edwards started to share her experience of working in the assessor's office and how much it has changed throughout the years. "It seems like yesterday I started out in the summers working. Then we had typewriters and calculators. We got the first computer when I went to work at the assessor's office. Of course, then we didn't trust them, so for two years we still typed the rolls and added them with a calculator to make sure the computer wasn't messing us up."

After reminiscing about times past, she started talking about her experience being elected as assessor and all the things she and her office have worked on in order to better help the community that they serve.

"Of course, my greatest honor was being elected as assessor in 2019. I couldn't have done it without my staff. It's not me, it's us. They're my work family and I love all of them so much, and we work as a team and we try to do the best possible job for our citizens.

"We began by rolling out a public-awareness campaign to let our senior citizens know that they can freeze their assessments. We've done really well with it. We've increased our number of freezes by quite a lot and, during reassessment year, that really helps them because a lot of them are on fixed income, and they were unaware that there was such a program that could help them.

"We also changed our GIS mapping online to a free service where before it was subscription based. We updated our website to make it more user friendly and added a few things. During COVID we added online homestead sign-up, and we actually were able to get some federal funds to help us with

"We began doing an annual report starting two years ago, and we've just tried to keep our public informed of all our changes — how the process works, how millages are set — and let them know how everything goes, and we plan to continue that.

"We've also added an

"We've digitized all of the old maps, and we're working on digitizing all of our old files. We've lowered the millage rate of the assessment district my first two years in office and saved the taxpayers one million dollars and we plan to keep it low again this year as well saving another $500,000," said Edwards.

After speaking about all the accomplishments of her office, she announced her plans to seek re-election this coming fall and the future plans in store for the assessor's office, such as digitizing old maps and records, updating their online GIS maps, as well as continuing the work they've been doing to make things as easy for local citizens as possible. "I also want this to be a time for me to announce that I do plan to seek re-election in the fall, and I hope that I'll have all of your love and support that we received the prior time. It means so

A number of invoices and upgrades were approved which will be detailed in a future article.

This was also the first day of school for students after the winter break. "From most reports, all went well," said Superintendent Johnny Rowland. "We're thankful for a good start, and thankful to be back in school."

The next school board meeting will be on February 6, 2023. The public is welcome to attend.

The first documents were found inside the Washington, D.C., offices of the Penn Biden Center think tank.

What do we know?

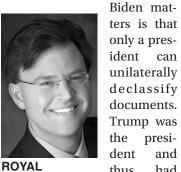

Well, to begin with, what this latest Biden scandal underscores, yet again, is the corrupt nature of the FBI raid on President Trump's Mar-A-Lago home in Florida on Aug 8, 2022. A raid that reportedly included 30 agents—including SWAT teams-in 20 government vehicles swarming Mar-a-Lago in the Palm Beach darkness.

When can we expect the FBI raid on Biden's Delaware home or his D.C. think tank to further investigate the mishandling of our National Security secrets, a discovery known by the DOJ several days BEFORE the midterm elections and yet covered up from the American people?

The FBI raid of Trump's home was such a galactic injustice and legal error that even the leftist Washington Post has since concluded (WP, Nov 14, 2022) what millions of us knew from the beginning: that Pres. Trump never did or intended to do anything illicit with those documents and simply believed they were his property. In the past, disputes like these were worked out between a former president's lawyers and the government's lawyers and, at the very worst, a subpoena could be issued to settle any dispute.

Scott McKay, publisher of The Hayride, stated at the time: "There (were) no documents at Mar-A-Lago worth staging an FBI raid on a former president's home. That's the kind of provocative move that can start a civil war."

However, the critical difference between the Trump and and thus had the power to declassify any document or source of information he wanted and implicit in his act of removing those documents from sification of them. But Joe Biden wasn't the president at the time that these felonies-which potential weaken U.S. national security—were committed. He was the Vice President. And he had no power to declassify documents, much less take them out of the government chain the White House was a declas-of custody and protection and store them in his garage next to his corvette in Delaware, or his think tank in D.C.

Further, while this situation is still developing it appears that a number of the classified documents Biden had stashed potentially involve those reflecting payments to the Bidens of millions of dollars by Chinese "businessmen" connected with the Chinese Communist Party as well as documents covering U.S. foreign policy concerning the UK, Iran, and Ukraine.

Please recall that just prior to the 2020 presidential election the story of Hunter Biden's "laptop from hell" was breaking universally before the top brass at the FBI and Big Tech conspired to suppress the story although the FBI knew the storv was credible.

The laptop makes clear that the Biden Crime Family, including 'the Big Guy,' benefitted to the tune of millions of dollars from the Chinese government. The laptop contained not only details of the corrupt leveraging by Hunter Biden of his family connections with other nations in exchange for multi millions of dollars, but it also directly implicated through emails and voicemails then-presidential candidate, Joe Biden, himself. One of those nations was Ukraine.

Reasonably, many are speculating that VP Biden removed and kept these classified documents because they would expose the corruption he and his family were involved with, all of which has been corroborated and highlighted by, again, the Hunter Biden laptop as well as his former business partner, Tony Bobulinski, which has been entered into the Congressional Record for all to read and view.

It all stinks to high heaven!

I wish I had confidence that the special counsel would get to the bottom of this but AG Garland and the top appointees at the Department of Justice and the FBI have become so politically weaponized that I doubt it.

As the National Review summed it up:

"The document drama exposes Biden as a hypocrite.... It's another headache for a president who has never been forthright about his relationship to his family's lobbying and consulting business. Biden finished 2022 and spent the first week of 2023 on offense. Now he's on defense once more. He doesn't like the feeling. But he better get used to it." (NR, Continetti, January 14, 2023).

A goal for the New Year: Begin writing

One of the best lectures I've heard was at the East Texas Christian Writer's Conference in Marshall, Texas in 2014.

The speaker emphasized that if a writer really wants to develop his talent the best place to start is newspaper writing.

I heartily agree, although I began writing poetry in 1981, while going through a nervous breakdown. At that time I didn't realize that therapists highly recommend writing and journal keeping as a means of coping.

Even though I seldom write poetry anymore even though I've had three books of poetry published along with two volumes of inspirational pieces, I know the speaker was right.

I began submitting and have things published in The Times in 1989, when Frank May was the editor of the editorial page. It fueled my energy to see my ramblings published!

As I continued to write I was motivated to have pieces published on Christmas Day. It was like I was giving a gift to myself and hopefully to the readers who somehow could relate to the pain that I needed to express.

Then I branched out and was jubilant to have my pieces published in the Minden Press Herald on a weekly basis. At one time I was having my columns published weekly in ten newspapers, which I actually trans-through email.

As I entered the workforce at the age of forty-six, I marvel that I was as prolific as I was considering how hard it is to learn to make a living late in life, but I never whined or complained!

Sometimes I would fall asleep in the recliner and not wake up until dawn but I always kept my promise to write something every day in my journal and to send out as many pieces as I could to various venues every day.

It finally began to pay off when I wrote a story that was published on Christmas Day in

Prior to writing that story I was so determined to make it happen that I woke up maybe thirty minutes after falling asleep and penned my first story about our old family trunk that was opened in 1957 on Christmas Eve just three months before daddy died at home in the same room where he told us the stories that I begged to hear about our ancestors pictures within!

Lo and behold I sold an edited version of that piece to Guideposts Magazine in 1994!

To think it all started by writing for the newspaper!

Then it happened again! I wrote a story titled: When God delivered a newspaper to a laundromat in the newspaper as well as in Guidepost magazine!.

This is how it works!

For a writer to accomplish anything with their writing you have to write from your heart and write -- and write -- knowing that if you hone you talents that you will accomplish at least a goal of leaving a legacy for someone -- maybe your family -- friends or total strangers you may never meet!

You never know where your stories will go or what a difference your words may make.

Remember what the late Erma Bombeck said "It isn't the money you make but knowing your words have touched people you may never met!"

We need to let each other know that it is OK to bare our souls and share each other's loads through writing. We need to know someone cares.

What's cooking? Pound cake, blueberry bread, and so much more

This past year has found me slacking off on my cooking. But, now I feel as if it is time for me to get back to preparing our meals as well as baking some favorite items I had been sharing with friends and neighbors.

Some items that I've often shared include Pound Cake, Blueberry Bread. Sweet Potato Bread and even Fruit Cake for the holidays;

This was the first Christmas that Hubby and i didn't make our favorite Fruit Cake and share with friends and family. Instead, we made the refrigerated fruit cake that didn't require baking.

All my brothers, sisters and their families always looked forward to sharing our cake. This year, there were no family members to share with nor some of the friends who always some of it.

fruit cake because it is too dry. But not, mine.

I use the recipe that my Mama used, Dark Fruit Cake. This is a recipe she found on a Crustene shortening box, and one she always used. She substituted home canned preserves for the candied fruit the recipe called for, and orange candy slices for the candied orange

We all enjoyed her cakes every year. Our children never learned to like the cake and with all my siblings and spouses gone, as well as friends lost to Covid, we simply saw no reason to go to the trouble and expense of making the fruit cake.

We cut back on our Christmas candies, but still had enough to share with our children.

By the time we had enjoyed all the rich foods, we were ready for something else, Our daughter shared some delicious meals while we were not feeling well but today I thought it was time for me to get back in the kitchen.

I had a cabbage and potatoes so I thought about a dish I learned about when we were camping in Beavers' Bend State Park. We were sitting outside visiting the neighbors camped near us. While chatting she told me she was cooking supper in her crockpot. When I asked about it, she said she was cooking cabbage with potatoes and smoked sausage. I had never heard of this dish but later I tried it and found it to be quite tasty. We've had it several times and this week I tried it again. However, I accidently bought Jalapeno sausage. It was too hot for my liking, but we ate some of it anyway, I also had fresh strawberries, so I made a strawberry pie. This meal was quite a change for us, so I think I may be trying to cook other dishes before long.

Perhaps I might get around to baking blueberry bread for my neighbor.

Glenbrook football facing coaching change

Head coach David Feaster accepts offensive coordinator position at Louisiana Christian

T. SCOTT BOATRIGHT Minden Press-Herald

Changes are in store for the Glenbrook football program after head football coach h David Feaster, who guided the Apaches to the Division IV Select School quarterfinals this past season, announced last week that he has accepted a position as offensive coordinator at Louisiana Christian University in Pineville

Feaster made the announcement on a Facebook post a little the afternoon of Jan. 11.

That post reads as fol-

"I can't tell you how much my family and I have enjoyed Minden and the Glenbrook Apaches for the last 5 years. I will rejoin Coach Drew Maddox at Louisiana Christian University as offensive coordinator. As excited as we are to take on a new adventure, it will be really tough leaving a team and community that has been so supportive of us. We plan to maintain the relationships that we have formed and can't wait to see the Apaches roll

Feaster, who guided the Apaches to a record of 20-3 over the past two seasons, feels he is living the program better than it was when he took over five years ago.

He said Louisiana

Drew Maddox, who preceded Feaster as his staff and that now both agree the time is right.

"Coach Maddox and I had talked a few years ago about me joining his staff," Feaster said. "But at that point we got to talking and realized there was more work to be done at Glenbrook first building up that program and that it wasn't the right time to make that happen."

"But times change,

"But times change, and now the timing feels right. We think we're leaving Glenbrook a better team with a great group of coaches and players who have wwa great chance to continue growing and getting better. The timing just feels right now."

Feaster said his son, Glenbrook starting quarterback Ty Feaster, will be making the move to Pineville for his senior season.

"We'll find him a school to play his season and see what happens," Feaster said. "He's still saying goodbye to friends and I know this won't be easy on him, but he's also up for the adventure and realizes that the teaming seems right for everyone."

Ty Feaster, the District 1-1A Offensive MVP, completed 157 of 231 passes for 2,436 yards and 37 touchdowns with only four interceptions for the Apaches as a junior.

He was also first team all-district kicker.

"Obviously if things work out, I'd love to be able to coach him at Louisiana Christian,"

Coach Feaster said.
"But there's a whole season to be played out first. Who knows? He might find another school he wants to go to. College coaching opportunities don't come up every day and after talking things over with my family and others, it just feels like the right time and opportunity to make this move."

On the afternoon of December 26, the duo decided to walk across the road and head for their box stand located in an area overlooking an opening with heavy timber on each side.

'We left the house about 3:00 and walked to our stand," she said. "After about half an hour, we began hearing lots of noises coming from the thick woods and suddenly, a doe came out running across the clearing and she was followed by two bucks chasing her. I told my husband that if one of them came back out, I might try and shoot it as they were both nice bucks."

Zac suggested that she hold off because it was only 3:00 with plenty of daylight left to have a chance at an even bigger buck,

"Five minutes after the doe and two bucks came across, another deer came walking through the woods where the three had come from and it stopped before getting to the clearing," Jordyn said. "All I could see was a big body as its head was behind some trees. Zac could see the head and whispered to me to quickly get my gun out the window. I still had no idea what sex or size

the deer was because

was the shoulder."

Following her husband's urging, even though she had no idea what she might be looking out, she got her .270 out the window.

"At first I couldn't find the deer in my scope but Zac pointed it out to me and told me to hurry up and shoot before the deer took off," Jordyn said.

"He knew it was a fine buck but I still had no idea since I had only seen the shoulder, so I shot and the deer took off like it wasn't hit."

In order not to disturb her sister who was hunting on a nearby stand, Zac suggested that they wait until legal shooting time was over to begin the search.

"After sitting for an hour, my thought was that I had missed because the deer took off so fast. We walked down to where the deer was standing and could find no blood. Then Zac walked another 25 yards, found blood and we followed it to where the deer was piled up 15 yards further," Jordyn said.

The buck was a fine one, weighing 285 pounds, was about 5 1/2 years old and carried a rack of 12 heavy points.

Inside spread was 17 inches, main beams reached out some 25 and 26 inches each with bases approaching 6 inches each.

The buck was taken to Simmons Sporting Goods in Bastrop to be entered in that store's big buck contest and the rack was measured at a whopping 180 3/8 inches.

Not a bad deal at all for a young lady who couldn't tell what she was shooting at. Thankfully, her husband knew, she followed his command and ended up with a buck that could very well win the women's division in Simmons Big Buck contest.

Visiting the Potter's House Again! Do You Need To Go With Me?

These winter storms keep forming all around us, bringing unusual weather our way. Some storms blow in from the South, from the North, from the Northwest and Southwest... and some seem to just form in the 'back forty'. This is nothing new. History makes us aware (especially Biblical history) of many storms that have blown and shaped the known world for centuries. Ancient Israel and Judah were learning this lesson when Jeremiah stepped upon the scene. He was called out by God to give warning to the Southern Kingdom (Judah) to turn back to God or be doomed like their brothers in the Northern Kingdom (Israel). Israel had been conquered years before and many choice leaders had been taken into Babylonian captivity.

Now the enemy army was mounting the siege of Jerusalem. Jeremiah had been given a series of messages to share with his people. From the peasant all the way to the King, God wanted this communication to be shared. As bad as the situation looked, there remained a hint of hope in the message from God. He was always willing to say, "If you will but do this...I will do this...." Today, we learn this truth from Jeremiah's trip to the Potter's House: God is willing and able to remake flawed lives and nations into beautiful, useable pots again. Today, all around us we see hopeless people, lost and homeless, searching for meaning, truth, and a place of belonging. Some believe "God cannot forgive me for all that I have done in the past." It's not easy to deal with these attitudes in trying to help them. But Jeremiah was charged with this assignment. Judah was surrounded by her enemy; fear of annihilation and exile griped the people. And yet, they continued to disobey the Lord. But God was leading Jeremiah to the Potter's House to teach him a lesson for the people.

Like Israel, Judah had forsaken their fidelity and commitment to the Lord. They planted idols on the hillsides and throughout their towns, violating the First Commandment. The Temple was no longer devoted to worship and prayer. They even had idols build inside of it where pagan cult worship was conducted. Judgment appeared unavoidable. Yet, the Lord called for a radical change in His people and promised not to punish them if they would only repent. Never the less, doom seemed unavoidable! Jeremiah recorded God's exact words in declaring His revelation: "Stop what you are doing and go at once to the Potter's House; go see the potter at work." (We know pots of this nature were used to store just about everything. It would be equivalent to our using cans, plastic jugs, paper bags, etc). God was using an everyday activity to reveal eternal truths to His messenger. (God can remold us).

The potter was at work when Jeremiah arrived - at the wheel, using his feet to spin the upper wheel, as the clay was being molded by his hands. He would form a pot from the lump of clay, making a useful object. But if the jar was flawed, the potter would destroy it and start over again. It was his decision to start over and not the condition of the clay. God wanted Jeremiah to see the patience of the potter and realize the great patience He was exercising with Judah. WE MUST APPRE-CIATE THE LORD'S PATIENCE WITH US.

Then God said to Jeremiah: "O Israel, can't I do to you as this potter has done to his clay? As the clay is in the potter's hand, so are you in My hand. But if that nation changes its mind and turns to evil, refusing to obey me, then I, too, will change My mind and not bless them as I had said I would." God's sovereignty was not limited to the nation of Judah, but extended to every nation (and every person). He was saying: "If I called a certain nation to be destroyed for its' evil ways (moral decay, worship of idols, turning away from God, removing the landmarks of His presence) but they repented of their sins, I will change My course of action in response to the changed hearts, attitudes and behavior of the people." Likewise, if a disobedient man becomes repentant, committing his life to God's leadership, God will restore him. WE MUST TURN TO GOD -AWAY FROM OUR SINFUL LIFESTYLE, AL-LOWING HIS POWER TO OVERRULE.

God directs Jeremiah (18:11-16) to "Go now and warn Judah and Jerusalem to 'Hear the word of the Lord...I am planning evil against you now instead of good; turn back from your evil paths and do what is right." They replied: "Don't waste your breath. We have no intention whatever of doing what God says. We will continue to live as we want to, free from any restraint, full of stubbornness and wickedness." (Doesn't this sound so much like the secular world today?) So, they rejected the Lord's invitation to repent and chose to persist in their evil ways. Soon they discovered the consequences of their disobedience. The Babylonian army crushed Jerusalem, taking many into captivity for 70 years in exile. AMEND YOUR WAYS AS A NA-TION AND AS INDIVIDUALS -OR SUFFER CONSEQUENSES OF BEING DISOBEDIENT!

There are applications for us today. We must recommit our lives to the God of our forefathers. 2 Chronicles 7:14 calls for us to 'humble ourselves and pray, search for God's will, and turn from our wicked ways.... then, He will hear us from His heavenly throne and forgive us of our sins and heal our land. He will listen to each of our pleas and prayers grant us par-

As we begin the year - 2023, would that each believer be convicted to visit the Potter's House and have their hearts remolded? Would that each community, state and national leader do the same? Would that our judges and other decision makers search for Biblical truths for each decision made? What a spiritual revolution would we experience this year!

way," Ephesians 4:20 NASB

Max Hutto

"But you," you believers in Jesus Christ, you are to be radically different from nonbelievers. You are to live drastically different from the old sinful way of life. You do not walk or have the lifestyle of those without Christ. A righteous and holy life in Christ is not learned through an ungodly lifestyle. You have learned Christ by coming to know Him personally. Learning Christ is not knowing about sonal and intimate relationship with Him where He is your Lord and Savior.

Lord Jesus, You have transformed my life and caused me to yearn to walk with You in righteousness and holiness. Help me to live radically different from those who do not know You.

Ask, Seek, and Knock

Matthew 7:7-8 NIV Says "Ask and it will be given to you; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to vou. For everyone who asks receives: the one who seeks finds; and to the one who knocks, the door will be opened". This scripture was given to us as instruction for our success. As Christians, we often overlook the importance of this scripture. We have goals, needs, and desires that we all want to accomplish and God wants to help us. However, there are a couple of things we need to do first. Firstly, we need to have goals, needs, and desires rooted in God. Secondly, we need to have faith that God will provide. These are instructions that apply to every as> pect of your life. We often work so hard to do things under our strength when instead we should rely on God's. I would like to ask everyone to let God do the heavy lifting and most importantly give God the glory.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Advanced

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
